ONE THING AND ANOTHER WHICH SOCIETY PEOPLE LIKE TO TALK ABOUT.

THE drive whist entertainment given by the Montana Whist club on Friday evening in the spacious parlors of the Montana was a brilliant success. The gentlemen proved themselves model hosts, the lady guests expressed the heartiest admiration of all the appointments, and the evening's amusement passed off to the entire satisfaction of all. The tables of players were divided into two separate series, for convenience in the progression, and prizes were provided for each series. The first prizes, volumes of Tennyson and Browning, elegantly bound in allegator, were taken respectively by Mrs. Shelly Tuttle and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, after a draw-out between Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Durston, whose records showed a tie. The booty prizes, which were amusing toys, were awarded to P. M. Milne and W. S. Mendelhall. The fortunate persons present were: Mesdames Thornton, Bartlett, Kennedy, King, Durston, Tuttle, Smith, Hickey, Giegrieh, Hallahan, Maxwell and McKinney; Messrs. Blackford, Cohen, Engel, Hobson, Suprenant, Moses and Kichoe, E. S. McDonald, Kidd, Kennedy, Bartlett, McKinney, A. Fitzgerald, R. B. Mrs. J. C. C. Thornton and James W. Forbis have purchased the dwelling lots on the northeast corner of Washington street and Broadway and will erect during the coming summer a very elegant and spacious double house fronting both streets. It will be arranged in a manner that will admit of both houses being thrown into one for purposes of entertainments.

On last Monday evening Miss Sibyl Graves entertained a number of her young friends at her home on East Broadway. After a 5 o'clock tea there was music and songs and merry games. The party consisted of Misses May Carmen, Myrtle Carmen, Gertrude Wells, Bertie Curtis, Maud Nungesser, Miss Robinson, their teacher, was there, too, so that the party would have a little reality and not all fun. They left with a wish that they might attend similar gatherings and voted Miss Sibyl a charming little hostess.

MISSOULA'S GAY SIDE.

Interesting Events in and Gossip from the Social Circle.

MISSOULA, Feb. 21.—The anniversary ball given by Laurel lodge, No. 11, K. of P., at their Castle hall on Thursday evening, was a social success. The Twenty-fifth Infantry orchestra furnished the music to which about fifty couples kept time. As usual, the Knights proved excellent entertainers and all their guests had a splendid time. Supper was served at the Florence hotel about midnight. There were just about enough people present to comfortably fill the hall, which on such occasions is usually packed. Numerous leading society people who would have been present at any other season of the year were absent, but those present enjoyed the evening none the less. Judge George W. Reeves is in Horse Plains.

On Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock Charles E. Johnson and Miss Edith C. Grierson were united in marriage by Rev. Charles H. Linley at the Church of the Holy Spirit. Before the arrival of the bride party the church was filled with friends, Messrs. Frank Keith and Bert Higgins acted as ushers. Miss Robinson presided at the organ. The bridesmaid was Miss May Grierson, sister of the bride, and the best man was Thomas Hathaway. Robert Mentrum, brother-in-law of the bride, gave her away. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the depot and took the train for Tacoma and other cities on the coast. Mr. Johnson is a popular young business man of the city, and his bride has a wide circle of friends.

Never was the K. of P. hall so jammed as on Friday evening, when the firemen gave their masquerade ball. It was estimated that about four hundred people were present. The spectators outnumbered the masquers, but there were fully as many of the latter as the floor would comfortably hold. Every precaution was taken to admit only proper persons and the result was perfectly successful. Every spectator was required to pay an admission fee and this made the ball a financial success and prevented the hall from being crowded beyond endurance. The grand march occurred shortly after 9 o'clock and at 10:30 the masques were removed and numerous surprises occurred. Then the dancing continued till the small hours.

DEER LODGE AFFAIRS.

Interesting Gossip Concerning Well Known People.

DEER LODGE, Feb. 21.—George W. Irvin passed through Deer Lodge Friday on his way to the capital.

R. Hari Rumber came down Friday on the 4 o'clock train and met his sister Miss Mattie Humber at the depot, and both went on over to Helena to visit their father.

J. H. Russell, a former Deer Lodge, now located at Butte, spent several days in the city last week, and introduced to his many friends his bride, a young lady of that city, whom he married in January.

H. S. Reed, Alf. Whitworth and Frank Conley left for Helena Thursday of last week to be present at the regular monthly meeting of "Algeria Temple," Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

N. J. Bielenberg and John B. Featherman accompany them, to cross the hot sands Thursday evening, and if they survive, will return as full-fledged Shriner.

There was a most pleasant and congenial dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Lardie, on Wednesday evening last, at their lovely new residence. The guests invited were: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zenor, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Bielenberg, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Stackpole, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ward, Miss Mary Galbraith and Messrs. Alex Woolfolk and H. J. Toomey.

Alexander Gibson and Miss Anna M. Sunderland, both of Boulder, were married in that place on Tuesday. Mr. Gibson is at present under sheriff of Jefferson county, and was, only a short time since, a guard at the penitentiary in this place, and consequently is well known in Deer Lodge, having several times recently visited friends here, and is a sister of Mrs. W. H. Trippet.

The preparations for the Mikado presentation are going on with a host of promises to make its production the event of the season. The orchestra will be conducted by Professor Kosky and the cast of characters is incomplete, but so far as known now will be as follows: Mikado, Nankipoo, Will Beaumont; Poo Bah, Will Fisher; Fish Tush, N. R. Beckwith; Yum Yum, Mrs. N. Jones; Pitti Sing, Mrs. S. B. Mills; Peep Boo, Miss May Woolfolk; Kattisha, Miss Maude Stuart; Ko Ko, Walter Wiles.

William Coleman started last week on a visit to his aged parents in Ohio. It has been many years since he was home, and there will be a very happy meeting when he enters the old home doors. By his care and sagacity Mr. Coleman has made himself one of the wealthiest and most prominent business men of Montana. Before he returns to Deer Lodge he will procure plans from St. Paul architects and arrange for building a handsome residence on his lots near the court house that will be a credit and an ornament to the city.

A very pleasant and novel entertainment was given by the Misses O'Bannon and Bawie. It was a "pancake party." Much merriment was caused by the fates as pronounced by the far-sighted pancakes, for imbedded in each were the trinkets which, "like coming events, cast their shadows before." Frank Hardenbrook found a ring; he is therefore the first to be married;—Eaton found a darning needle, which he will use as an old bachelor. Miss Linda Williams drew the lucky penny and Henry Reed got the old maid's button.

A movement was started this week toward organizing a gymnasium club, and a subscription paper circulated among the business men received generous response. About $75 has been pledged, and it is proposed to purchase dumb-bells, Indian clubs and other gymnasium apparatus, so that the young men may cultivate their muscles to their hearts' content. The old salvation army barracks will be made headquarters for the budding athletes. The officers of the club will be: President, Emil Hansen; vice-president, John McMahon; secretary, George Wright; treasurer, David Bishop.

WAYS OF WOMEN.

Angel white, which is that sunny, creamy tint that is touch of amber, is becoming to every face.

Henastiching and drawn work are the approved trimming for bed linen and also for buckaback towels.

The best opera glasses do not always come set in gold and jeweled cases, though much money is spent in this way.

There is almost a universal crusade against earrings, and it is no longer fashionable for jewelry to be worn in "sets."

With some of the cloth costumes are now made of the cloth and lined with a heavy shade of silk. The hat and muffs are also made to correspond, and although these are not as becoming as those of fur or feathers they are becoming quite popular, giving an air of chic to the gown.

My lady's boudoir is at present receiving fully as much attention as the proverbial spider's parlor, and even her sleeping place is a thing of beauty and exquisite daintiness. Now she has decided that her repose is heightened and her dreams made more alluring by the use of silk sachets finely embroidered. Perfumed sachets are fastened in the corners and the flower in the embroidery corresponds to the one from which the sachet powder is made. Old style puffs of eider down quilts are filled with delicate perfumes, so that one reclines not only on, but under a bed of roses. In marked contrast is another fad for a spread of coarse linen sheeting, with bold conventional designs done in gold silk.

Macdome de fruits d'Alaska is the French label for a dessert that society people are quite wild about and for which they pay $5 a service. A massive cake of ice, hollowed out for a capacity of two quarts, garnished with natural flowers, is placed on a silver tray and girded with twisted napkins. Disks of fresh fruits, with preserved or candied cherries, pine-apple and ginger are put in the icy compartments, flavored to suit, and a quart of liqueurs thrown over the medley. The mélange is served almost immediately after being prepared. Another very delicious sweet is the chaglor garfi d'apricots. The ice, frozen in the shape of a poke bonnet or Gainsborough and trimmed with lilies of the valley or natural violets, are placed on lace papered plates and filled with small confections, also in ice or ice cream. Frozen bonbons and apricots are the most costly and consequently the most desirable. The apricots are by all odds the most ingenious, and correspondingly deceptive. The cream takes the form of the fruit and encases it in a delicate blue or pink curacao, maraschino, absinthe or some other hair-curling liqueur.

STOLE 646 HANDKERCHIEFS.

A Vienna Baker's Queer Longing For Other People's Property.

From the Chicago Tribune.

An extraordinary case of monomania has been developed at Vienna. A baker's assistant there has stolen no less than 646 pocket handkerchiefs, not for their value, but because an irresistible longing to possess them has prompted him to do so.

He never sold them, but used to carry some about with him constantly. He was first punished in 1885, when he was condemned to a fortnight's imprisonment for stealing 27 pocket handkerchiefs. He was sentenced to the same penalty three years later for the same offense, but the police, instead of handing him over to the jailor, sent him to the hospital to have his mental condition examined. The doctors declared him to be suffering from acute monomania. He says that when he sees a lady's handkerchief hanging out of her pocket he cannot help taking it.

Defiance, Ia., claims to have a living skeleton who weighs only 65 pounds. He is five feet eight inches tall and is a prohibitionist.
